

Program for Notification of Herbert Hoover

Expected to Outline His Views on What He Regards as the Major Issues of the Campaign—More Than 100 Stations Will Carry Speech—Expect Record Crowd at Stadium.

Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 11 (P).—A new pathway, at the end of which may stand the White House, was opened today to Herbert Hoover.

From the far corners of the nation men and women of great and small degree came to bid him God-speed upon the journey routed for him by the Republican party.

The setting for his official notification and for the delivery of his first message to the voters of America was of his own choosing, here among the hills where he won the first struggles of an orphaned boyhood.

The scene itself was laid in a vast bowl erected long after he had completed his own school days at this picturesque University, and affording room for a crowd far exceeding in numbers any that has attended a similar ceremony in this country.

The official message itself was brought by Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, permanent chairman of the convention which nominated him at Kansas City nearly two months ago, and chairman of the notification committee made up of representatives of every state in the union.

Shortest Notification Speech.

Hoover has selected the governor of his adopted state, C. C. Young, as master of ceremonies. To him went the honor of presenting the committee chairman, who had prepared perhaps one of the shortest notification speeches on record—one that would require only eight minutes for delivery.

At its conclusion massed bands were to play the National Anthem, and Hoover then was to launch into his speech of acceptance, breaking the silence self-imposed since he had won the highest honor within the per of his party to give.

In his speech the nominee was expected to outline his views on what he regards as the major issues of the campaign, and interpret the chief planks of the party—those dealing with prohibition enforcement and farm relief.

Besides the thousands who will face the nominee and hear his voice through a system of loud speakers installed over the special platform at the east end of the stadium, untold other thousands will listen in on the radio.

Over 100 Radio Stations.

The speech will be carried from coast to coast and border to border through a chain of more than one hundred stations.

In addition to the notification committee, officials of the Republican National Committee, including Dr. Hubert Work, the chairman, will be gathered on the speakers' platform, while other party leaders will be seated in places especially reserved in a nearby section of the bowl.

Surrounded by members of his family from this and other states, and house guests, the nominee spent the morning quietly, awaiting the hour when he and Mrs. Hoover would leave home for the stadium, a mile and more across the campus.

Anticipating an almost record crowd, university officials ordered the stadium gates opened at noon, nearly four hours before the beginning of the speaking.

Elaborate Program.

A somewhat elaborate program had been arranged for the entertainment of the early arrivals, with dare devil stunts by pilots of private airplanes which began arriving here yesterday from various parts of the state.

The planes were allotted two hours from noon for their appearance over the stadium, but after that and with the beginning of a daylight fireworks display, they were under orders to keep outside a radius of two miles so that there would be no possibility of the drone of their propellers interfering with the speeches.

Police planes were on hand to see that this regulation was obeyed.

"California" will be played by the massed bands as the secretary and Mrs. Hoover enter the bowl in an automobile, accompanied by Governor and Mrs. Young, and Senator and Mrs. Moses. As soon as they have entered the stand the ceremonies will get under way.

54th Birthday Friday.

Hoover's notification comes on the second day of his fifty-fourth birthday having been celebrated yesterday with a series of confederate with party leaders and a family gathering at home after he had been an honor guest at a dinner given by the newspaper correspondents and photographers who accompanied him from Washington last month.

After his notification the Republican nominee will remain here only five days, leaving next Thursday night for Washington, from which city he will personally supervise the conduct of the campaign.

En route he will stop at Los Angeles for a homecoming celebration, and also at Santa Barbara, Pasadena and Long Beach.

From California he will go to Iowa to speak at his West Branch birthplace. He expects to arrive in the national capital on August 25.

After attending a meeting of the trustees of Stanford University in San Francisco Monday, the nominee hopes to be able to make a motor trip to the real beginning of the campaign.

Smith Back From Brennan Funeral

Goes From Train to Executive Mansion Where He Plans to Complete Speech—Received Fragmentary Reports of Outlook in Middle West.

Albany, Aug. 11 (P).—At an hour this morning when ordinarily he still would have been asleep, Governor Smith got back to Albany from Chicago where he attended the funeral of George E. Brennan, Illinois Democratic leader.

Confronted with the task of whipping his acceptance speech into final form, the Democratic presidential nominee went from the train to the executive mansion where he planned during the day and over the week end to apply himself to that job.

The Governor also was expected, with members of his family, to listen in there this evening to the address of his rival, Herbert Hoover, at the Republican nominee's notification in California.

Governor Smith returned to Albany, after a 35-hour absence, aboard the first section of the Twentieth Century Limited which, running half an hour ahead of schedule, arrived here just before 7 a. m., daylight.

The nominee was up and immediately detained, the special car of his friend, William F. Kenna, in which he had made the trip, continuing on to New York.

Although he went to Chicago on a non-political mission, Smith received fragmentary reports during the trip, there with various party leaders as to the outlook in the middle west, particularly in Illinois. Floyd E. Thompson, Democratic nominee for governor in that state, was among those most optimistic about the chances of carrying Illinois in November.

Greeted in Indiana and Ohio.

As he passed through northern Indiana and Ohio late yesterday and last night, Governor Smith, in accordance with his wishes, was met by no political leaders. At the few stations at which his train stopped, however, he was greeted by crowds of varying sizes and as a rule stepped from the train to shake hands and exchange pleasantries, minus his coat and vest and wearing bedroom slippers.

Although there was a tendency to keep politics to the background during the trip, the Democratic nominee was able to discuss strategy and plans with two men actively identified with his campaign—Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, who is a vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and an intimate friend of the Governor, and James J. Hoey, of New York, one of the members of his campaign executive committee. Both were travel companions of the nominee, along with Kenna, who is a New York millionaire, James J. Riordan, another New York friend, and Smith's son, Arthur.

On his return to Albany, which for the present is his campaign base, the Governor had before him not only many hours of work polishing off his acceptance speech, which will be delivered here a week from Wednesday evening, but decisions on other campaign developments.

Among these were the question of a debate on his political career with Dr. John Roach Straton, Baptist minister of New York, which Smith himself proposed should be held in Straton's church, and which the clergyman has suggested be held also in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York. The Governor is expected to adhere to his original challenge—one meeting and that in the church where Dr. Straton charged the nominee was the greatest foe to moral progress in America.

Two Men Injured In Auto Crash

About 5 o'clock this morning an automobile driven by Charles Semonion of 337 Foxhall avenue and a truck, loaded with tomatoes, and driven by Julius Cuzogello of Kingston, Route No. 10, met at a turn in the road near Highland.

Both cars were badly damaged and both men were rushed to the Benedictine Hospital where they were attended by Dr. John F. Larkin. Both men were badly cut and bruised and will remain at the hospital for several days.

26 STATIONS WILL CARRY CURTIS SPEECH

New York, Aug. 11 (P).—Senator Charles Curtis will speak to the audiences of 26 broadcasting stations when he delivers his address accepting the Republican Vice Presidential nomination at Topeka, Kan., Aug. 18. The ceremonies are to open at 6 p. m., eastern standard time, and continue one hour.

The hookups will include: WJZ, New York, and WHAM, Rochester. The address also will be broadcast on short wave lengths for European reception from 2XAD and 2XAF at Schenectady, N. Y.

The journey into Yosemite National Park. He also desires to take those who will make the trip with him back across the continent into the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

Save for the speech at West Branch, in which he will give particular attention to farm relief, Hoover probably will wait at least two weeks before making another set address, thus deferring until early September the real beginning of the campaign.

Flood, Hail and Fire in Penn.

Several Persons Are Injured in Storm—Sweep Areas of Pennsylvania—Property Loss Will Reach Into Six Figures.

Philadelphia, Aug. 11 (P).—Reports from storm swept areas in Pennsylvania indicated today that crop and property loss from flood, hail and fire would reach well into six figures. Several persons were injured. No deaths were reported.

The eastern portion of the state was the most seriously affected. In Lancaster county, where tobacco is one of the principal crops, the larger plants over a wide area were cut by hail stones.

During an electrical storm, accompanied by a cloudburst, lightning struck an automobile near Lancaster, injuring a woman passenger. Bolts set fire to at least four barns in the county.

Two firemen, answering a call at one of the farms, saved themselves from drowning when their automobile was swept away by grasping the overhanging limb of a tree.

Firemen were today attempting to restore the disrupted telephone and telegraph communication. The storm broke late yesterday and lasted two hours.

From Pottstown came word that the storm as it passed over northern Chester county did damage aggregating thousands of dollars. Uprooted trees and flooded sections of York county.

As far west as Towanda streams left their banks, washing away a dozen bridges and crippling traffic.

Large Seizure of Liquor In Ontario

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 11 (P).—Seized liquor stocks valued at $10,000,000 were under guard of provincial police today and 36 exporters were under subpoena to appear in court to answer to charges of violation of the Ontario liquor control act.

The action, it is believed, will close up the source of supply of many of the bootleggers engaged in running liquor into the United States.

The warehouses in which the liquor is stored are located across the river from Detroit.

Complaints against the exporters were made by Sir Henry Drayton, head of the liquor control board. He said he hoped the action would serve as a test of that provision of the liquor control act regulating the storing of excessive stocks of liquor in border warehouses.

Two of the largest liquor exporters of the province, Harry Low and Sid Nathanson, were among those subpoenaed. Low is head of International Company, an exporting concern for widespread liquor interests.

It was the second large seizure of liquor in border warehouses in recent months. Two months ago the stocks of two other exporters of Ontario were seized. The case against them is still pending.

BOY SHOT IN DRY RAID LOSES HIS RIGHT ARM

New Albany, Ind., Aug. 11 (P).—Sixteen-year-old Clarence Smith's slowness in obeying a prohibition enforcement officer's command to get out of bed cost him his right arm during a raid yesterday at the Smith farm home.

A Federal agent fired at young Smith, according to reports later made to prohibition headquarters at Indianapolis, when the boy showed disinclination to obey the order to get up.

A bullet entered Smith's arm, and amputation was necessary. Charges of conspiracy to violate the Federal Prohibition law were filed late yesterday by George Winkler, deputy prohibition administrator for Indiana, against Mrs. Francis Lowman, 50; James Smith, 59, and Otis Washburn, 46, following the raid. James Smith is the father of the wounded youth.

Winkler went to the scene after learning of the shooting. It was understood that he exonerated Charles Bieltner, the agent located at New Albany, who was reported to have fired the shot.

The raid, conducted by the Federal officers located here, reinforced by two special agents from the Indianapolis headquarters, was said by them to have netted a 150-gallon still and a small quantity of mash and some moonshine whiskey. It was charged that Mrs. Lowman and Smith owned the still and retailed the product in Louisville.

3 Cases Disposed Of in Summer Session of Court

Lefroy Palen Is Sent Back to Dannemora for Two Years—Ernest Williams Is Free After Spending Three Months—Harold Muraue Given a Chance.

In order that cases which came up during the course of the summer may be taken care of and defendants given a chance to plead if they so desire without waiting for the fall session of the grand jury, Judge Joseph M. Fowler is holding bi-monthly sessions of county court during the summer season.

This practice which was followed last summer proved to be a very good medium of keeping the criminal calendar free of minor offenders and assisted in the work of the grand jury at the first fall session in September.

Friday afternoon county court was convened and at that time three cases were disposed of on pleas.

Lefroy Palen, who has been before the court on several occasions, was arraigned under an indictment charging him with burglary, third degree, alleged to have been committed at the town of Marlborough.

Palen, who was but recently released from Clinton State Prison at Dannemora, where he had been sent on a charge of grand larceny, first degree, was brought to answer the other charge against him. Palen has been in several kinds of trouble and several indictments were pending against him. He has also served time at Elmira on a charge of abduction. On his plea of guilty to the charge of burglary, third degree, Judge Fowler sent him back to Dannemora for a two year term.

Palen in company with Janowski traveled through the town of Marlborough and committed several crimes during the course of a few days. State Troopers finally picked Palen up after he had been connected with the taking of a wagon and selling it to a party near Highland.

Several crimes were traced to him and his companion by the Troopers and both were convicted and sentenced to penal institutions.

Sent Three Months, Discharged.

Ernest Williams, who has been in jail for the past three months awaiting the action of the grand jury, decided to cast his fate to the court and asked to be prosecuted on information filed with the court under section 222 of the code. Williams is the gentleman who opposed Roscoe Benson in a fight in the lower section of the city some weeks ago when both landed in the hospital after a battle in which Williams was laid low with fence picket after knives and other implements of warfare had failed.

Williams was charged with assault, second degree, but was permitted to plead guilty to third degree assault. He was given three months in the jail, the same as Roscoe had received. Williams had already served the time and was discharged.

According to the story told Williams and Benson had clashed before. When Benson arrived home on Union street he found Williams there. Benson claimed Williams attacked him and Williams claimed Benson caused the trouble. At any rate a fight ensued. Both attempted to use knives for a time but Benson finally lost his knife in the fight. He resorted to a fence picket and laid his opponent low. Both landed in the hospital where they were confined for several days.

Given Chance to Make Good.

Harold Muraue, who claims Liberty as his home town, was also arraigned and entered a plea of guilty to forgery, second degree. Muraue is the lad who forged a check on County Treasurer Joel Brink and Emma Stoll of the town of Ulster on July 3. Both checks were in a nominal amount. Muraue who has also traveled under the name of Murray and DuBois, was arrested by Sergeant James Cunningham and Trooper Maloney at Florida, Orange county, several days later after an investigation by the Troopers and brought back to Kingston. Muraue was employed by the Cohen Trucking Company of Florida and denied at first he was the man wanted. However he was identified by persons as the man who forged the checks on the Kingston Trust Company and finally admitted the facts. On account of the lenient attitude of the complaining witnesses Judge Fowler gave Muraue a chance to make good. Muraue thanked the court and said he would make good both checks and also another small amount he owed one of the complainants.

Suspends Sentence.

Judge Fowler sentenced Muraue to Dannemora prison for a term of from 1 to 2 years and suspended execution of sentence during the good behavior of the defendant and on condition he made good the checks and report to Probation Officer Service to whom he will pay the funds to make good the checks. Judge Fowler asked Muraue if six weeks would be long enough to get a job and make good the amount which is about $60 and Muraue replied he would make good in three weeks. The court however gave him six weeks to make good the full amount.

Court went into recess until August 24 at 2 o'clock.

At the time of the youth's arrest the sergeant, Sheriff Arthur Rice and Deputy Sheriff Ralph Constable were busy working on the theft of a half ton of sugar from a store in Pine Hill.

They had a description of a car seen in the vicinity of the store the day of the theft, and as they were driving down Broadway they noticed the car answering the description. The arrest of Henkins followed, and according to the sheriff he confessed to the theft and told the authorities that he had sold eleven of the stolen bags of sugar to a local grocery.

This morning in police court the youth was given a suspended sentence on the charge of operating with the wrong license plates and was turned over to Sheriff Rice and will be arraigned later before Justice H. W. Misner at Pine Hill on the charge of stealing the twelve bags of sugar.

Program for Notification of Herbert Hoover

Expected to Outline His Views on What He Regards as the Major Issues of the Campaign—More Than 100 Stations Will Carry Speech—Expect Record Crowd at Stadium—Stanford University, Cal., Aug. 11 (P).—A new pathway, at the end of which may stand the White House, was opened today to Herbert Hoover.

From the far corners of the nation men and women of great and small degree came to bid him God-speed upon the journey routed for him by the Republican party.

The setting for his official notification and for the delivery of his first message to the voters of America was of his own choosing, here among the hills where he won the first struggles of an orphaned boyhood.

The scene itself was laid in a vast bowl erected long after he had completed his own school days at this picturesque University, and afforded room for a crowd far exceeding in numbers any that had attended similar ceremony in this country.

The official message itself was brought by Senator George H. Moore of New Hampshire, permanent chairman of the convention which opened two months ago, and chairman of the notification committee made up of representatives of every state in the union.

Shortest Notification Speech Hoover has selected the governor of his adopted state, C. C. Young, master of ceremonies. To him the honor of presenting the committee chairman, who had prepared the speech, was given.

In his speech the nominee expected to outline his views on the campaign, and interpret the plans of the party—those of prohibition enforcement, farm relief.

Besides the thousands who face the nominee and hear him through a system of loud speakers, stalled over the special platform at the east end of the stadium, other thousands will listen in radio.

Over 100 Radio Stations The speech will be carried coast to coast and border to border through a chain of more than a hundred stations.

In addition to the notification committee, officials of the Republican National Committee, including Hubert Work, the chairman, gathered on the speakers' platform while other party leaders seated in places especially reserved for them.

Surrounded by members of the family from this and other states, the nominee, after a morning quietly, awaiting when he and Mrs. Hoover would come for the stadium, a more across the campus.

Anticipating an almost crowd, university officials opened stadium gates at noon, four hours before the beginning of the speaking.

Elaborate Program. A somewhat elaborate program had been arranged for the entertainment of the early arrivals, with dare devil stunts by pilots of private airplanes which began arriving here yesterday from various parts of the state.

The planes were allotted two hours from noon for their appearance over the stadium, but after that with the beginning of a daylight fireworks display, they were under orders to keep outside a radius of two miles so that there would be no possibility of the dropping of their propellers interfering with the speeches.

Police planes were on hand to see that this regulation was obeyed.

Smith Back From Brennan Funeral

Goes From Train to Executive Mansion Where He Plans to Complete Speech—Received Fragmentary Reports of Outlook in Middle West—Albany, Aug. 11 (P).—At an hour this morning when ordinarily he still would have been asleep, Governor Smith got back to Albany from Chicago where he attended the funeral of George E. Brennan, Illinois Democratic leader.

Confronted with the task of whipping his acceptance speech into final form, the Democratic presidential nominee went from the train to the executive mansion where he planned during the day and over the week end to apply himself to that job.
